Jamie's Joy Memorial Fund started in May 2002 after a car accident took the life of 5-year-old Jamie Mychael Morgan Bratton-McNeeley. As a tribute to Jamie, family and friends came together to form a memorial fund at the San Diego Foundation to honor his legacy. Although his life was cut short, Jamie's contagious spirit continues through his legacy of: love, joy, peace and connection.

This year we are raising funds for Urban Street Angels a program which is dedicated to helping homeless transitional youth (ages 18-25) get off the street, heal and be a productive part of society. Their Mission:

URBAN STREET ANGELS provide hope, grace and love to the young homeless community in San Diego by providing outreach to young people that creates a connection to services either with Urban Street Angels or other local medical, employment or housing resources. We stand ready to awaken purpose, share our community, and uplift spirits. In doing so, we strive to Embrace, Cultivate and Propel these young people toward a personally satisfying and enriching quality of life.
